"Parkinson's disease is a disorder of the nervous system. There is not much known about it and in layman's term it is a chronic, degenerative disease of the brain. The cause is unknown and there is no cure at the present time." This was the opening statement by member Graeme Love when he was the Guest Speaker at the April meeting. Most people think it is a rare disease but it is more common than breast and prostate cancer. Over 80, 000 people in Australia suffer with the disease.

etc. and rely on funds from the public. They have no Glenn McGrath to create a major vocal point for fund-raising. As more is learned about the disease and more people are diagnosed with it, the costs of supporting those affected, grows.

The symptoms vary widely so it has been very difficult to diagnose. In some cases patients have suffered for many years with treatments for a wide range of perceived illnesses until – if they are lucky – they come in touch with a practitioner with a wide experience in brain diseases.

Parkinson's is not a killer. The body shuts down very gradually in some cases and the patient dies of pneumonia or such.

It results from damage to the nerve cells in a region of the brain that produces Dopamine, a chemical that is vital for the smooth control of muscles and movement. Not unlike the oil in a vehicle.

The main symptoms of Parkinson's are:

•tremor or shaking, which usually begins in one arm or hand •muscle rigidity or stiffness

slowing of movement

stooped posture

•balance problems.

Graeme mentioned he had a friend who was diagnosed with Rheumatoid Arthritis and was treated for a long period for this – with no change but a slow deterioration – before being correctly diagnosed.

Treatment currently is with a combination of the following:

medicines to increase or substitute for dopamine

• a healthy diet with regular exercise

• modifications to the physical environment at home and work

· brain surgery.

Currently there are 20% new cases in the 30-60 age group and 10-15% increase in the teens each year. These statistics lead to an increase in questions along the lines: should they have children, etc. When a sufferer is considered "Pub Drunk" life for the person, their family and work mates is very difficult.

Theories such as genetic, electro-magnetism (from power lines), environment have all been disproved to be a causative factor.

Early intervention with medication slows the progression.

The following well known people have suffered or do suffer from Parkinson's: MJ Fox (after suffering for 20 years, has undergone surgery on his spine and hopes to be back at golf in the summer!); Robin Williams, Mohamed Ali; Johnny Cash; Billy Graham; Linda Ronstadt – diagnosed 2012; Donald Chip; Sir Zelman Cowan and recently Neil Diamond.

A $15 donation to Parkinson's Qld. Will get a copy of "Tall Tales and True" by lan Cutler.

As Dorothy is back from her surgery I hope to be back in full flight very soon.

Firstly, many thanks from Dorothy and I to those members who have rung us, phoned us, offered help and assistance and sent their best wishes and get well cards during what has been a very worrying time.

A particular thank you for the beautiful flowers that were received at the Hospital, from the Members of the Probus Club of Kawana Waters, which I understand were organised by Julie and Lorraine.

Secondly, my thanks to our Senior VP, Mike who has stepped in and has proven to be a very competent and professional performer. Many thanks Mike.

Your Committee have not been idle; membership numbers had slipped back a little but we will have two new Members inducted at our next business meeting and a further three new Members at our June meeting.

Let's all have more Fun, Friendship, (Food?) and Fellowship in the year ahead. Allan Taylor

Personal Profile: Ruth McDonald

Ruth was born in Switzerland, near the Austrian border. After her mother's divorce she decided to join her sister in Sydney. They arrived 14th March 1950 and school was at Double Bay public school. The sea air did not suit her mother so they moved to the Bowral district. Living on a farm Ruth learned to milk cows, make butter, etc. At school she also learned book keeping, typing, cooking and sewing. All proved to be essential to her life which included nursing at 8 pounds a week (4 of which went to board!)

With husband, Graham, they moved to Wollongong (for football); a job in the mines and the local hospital—Admin. From here to hospitality—hotels—for 15 years of hard work, mixing with the racing fraternity, owning race horses etc. Interest rates were 18%!! The advantage was no cooking for years!

In 1988 they moved to Bribie but the sandflies drove them away! Then 14 years of Real Estate in Burpengary. Ruth was involved with the Progress Assoc. including starting the Christmas Fun Day— now a huge Spectacular! After 29 years it was time to downsize and move. Now on the Sunshine Coast she and Graham volunteer in various associations.

We look forward to having Ruth involved in the Club.

Thank you, Ruth.

Book Club: Ann Beaufoy

Our book for April was "the Girl on the train" by Paula Hawkins. This psychological thriller was a world-wide best seller and was made into a film. It proved to be a captivating read and was rated highly by most members of the group. The story is told through three narrators all of whom are flawed unlikable characters. Rachel, the main character is deeply troubled and an alcoholic whose efforts to help cause more damage than good. The plot of the book is clever as it keeps the reader in suspense until almost the end.

Thanks to Jenny for this report.

Armchair Travel Anna Firmin Jeff and Wendy Gunns:

Senior Gap Year in the South of France.

It is always interesting to have visiting speakers present to our group. They give us a different perspective on travel and this talk was a great example.

It seems, a number of Probians are interested in or dreaming of dropping out, going overseas to live for a while – not just visit a place for a few days. We had the largest membership turn up on Friday!

Jeff and Wendy used houseswap.com for their six month stay in Albi, a small town in the Lot area in France. Their base was a very simple home with all the necessary equipment including a very efficient central heating system – they arrived into the area at the start of winter. The first part of their talk was about the immediate area and the many and varied drives they took. It was amazing just what they found within a 50km drive. Wendy did the driving and Jeff the navigating. The presentation was by way of a very professional PowerPoint with great music running in the background.

Albi is on the Tarn River in southern France. Dominating the skyline is the 13th Century, red-brick Sainte-Cecile Cathedral. It is here that they heard the famous organ, said to be in the top three in France, being played.

Most of the touring was done on the D roads as Jeff and Wendy found these presented a very much more interesting view of the district. It was by way of these roads they came across Saint-Cirq-Lapopie. A beautifully preserved medieval village which hugs the rocky wall 100 metres above the river Lot. This village is a listed site and home to many artists, poets, markets, cafes and restaurants.

The second part of their talk centred on the Festivals and events which took place in the area during their six-month stay. Albi had a festival of the usual colourful, joyous style. One stood out which was at Castres. The theme was Grace, Dignity and Silence! All the costumes – and they were exquisite – had to be handmade!. And all was quiet!

I have been unable to contact Jeff and Wendy – they have gone to China! So I am hoping this has done justice to their very interesting presentation.
